JERICHO, NEW YORK / ACCESS Newswire / August 12, 2025 / Intelligent Protection Management Corp. (“IPM,” “we,” “us,” “our” or the “Company”) (Nasdaq:IPM), a managed technology solutions provider focused on enterprise cybersecurity and cloud infrastructure, today announced financial results for the three and the six months ended June 30, 2025.

As previously disclosed, on January 2, 2025 the Company completed its acquisition of Newtek Technology Solutions, Inc. (“NTS”) from NewtekOne, Inc. and the sale of its “Paltalk”, “Camfrog” and “Vumber” applications and certain assets and liabilities related to such applications (the “Transferred Assets”) to Meteor Mobile Holdings, Inc. (together, the “Transactions”). Following the Transactions, the Company’s business is focused on cybersecurity and cloud infrastructure.

For the purposes of this earnings release and the financial information provided herein, revenue and income from operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2025 primarily reflect the newly acquired NTS operations, while assets and liabilities related to the Transferred Assets are presented as held for sale/discontinued operations, and the results of operations related to the Transferred Assets are presented as discontinued operations.

Second Quarter 2025 Operational and Business Highlights:

- We were selected by Hewlett Packard Enterprise to be an accredited partner for its HPE Private Cloud AI solution.
- We initiated a collaboration with IT Ally, a trusted business and technology services provider focused on lower middle-market private equity firms and their portfolio companies.

- During the quarter, our Board of Directors approved a stock repurchase plan for up to $400,000 of our outstanding common stock, which plan expires on the one-year anniversary of such date. Pursuant to the repurchase plan, we purchased 104,600 shares of common stock during the quarter.
- We commenced offering Aura, a leading AI-powered online safety solution for individuals and families, designed to help minimize the impact of data breaches, scams, and other online threats on consumers.

Management Discussion

Jason Katz, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of IPM, said, “We are pleased with the sequential progress made during our first two operational quarters after the acquisition of Newtek Technology Solutions on January 2, 2025 and our successful rebranding to Intelligent Protection Management. During this period, we have laid the groundwork, from sales, marketing, accounting, and human capital, to position IPM to be poised for growth for the benefit of our customers, employees and stakeholders.

Sequentially, revenue for the second quarter increased by 4%, to $5.72 million, as our sales and marketing teams become more effective in servicing and growing our client base. Net loss increased 230% for Q2 2025 to $1.1 million, compared to net income of $0.8 million for Q1 2025. Q2 2025 Adjusted EBITDA improved 22% to negative $0.4 million compared to negative $0.5 million in the first quarter of 2025. As an enterprise cybersecurity and cloud infrastructure technology company we had deferred revenue, of $3.9 million in Q2 2025, which consists of sales that will be recognized in future quarters as product and services are installed. The balance sheet also reflects account receivables totaling $2.4 million, net in Q2 2025 based on the business that has been consummated since the Transactions”

Mr. Katz continued, “We have significant technological expertise, and we operate in large and growing markets where IPM is industry-certified in legal, healthcare and finance, giving us a significant competitive advantage versus our peers. That deep industry experience has led us to provide a “White Glove, High Touch,” service to our clients. Our clients have dedicated Technology Managers as a single point of contact and we do not use voice response telephonic menus or hand off service calls to agents in call centers in foreign countries. Our clients speak directly to their IPM account team members that are familiar with the needs of their business and the history of their account. This is an important IPM advantage”

“As we continue to develop and buildout our company, we are excited for the opportunities ahead as we endeavor to become one of the leading managed technology solutions providers focused on cybersecurity and cloud infrastructure. We look forward to the second half of 2025 and into 2026.”

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The Company has provided in this release Adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure, to supplement the consolidated financial statements, which are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP"). Adjusted EBITDA is defined as net income (loss) adjusted to exclude interest (income) expense, net, other (income) expense, net, income tax (benefit) expense, depreciation and amortization expense, stock-based compensation expense and net loss from discontinued operations. Management uses Adjusted EBITDA internally in analyzing the Company's financial results to assess operational performance and to determine the Company's future capital requirements. The presentation of this financial information is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP. The Company believes that both management and investors benefit from referring to Adjusted EBITDA in assessing its performance and when planning, forecasting and analyzing future periods. The Company believes Adjusted EBITDA is useful to investors and others to understand and evaluate the Company's operating results and it allows for a more meaningful comparison between the Company's performance and that of competitors. Our use of Adjusted EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider this performance measure in isolation from or as a substitute for analysis of our results as reported under GAAP. Some of these limitations are that Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect, among other things: cash capital expenditures for assets underlying depreciation and amortization expense that may need to be replaced or for new capital expenditures; interest income, net; other expense, net; income tax expense from continuing operations; our working capital requirements; the potentially dilutive impact of stock-based compensation; the provision for income taxes; and net loss from discontinued operations. Other companies, including companies in our industry, may calculate Adjusted EBITDA differently, which reduces its usefulness as a comparative measure.

Because of these limitations, you should consider Adjusted EBITDA along with other financial performance measures, including total revenues, subscription revenue, deferred revenue, net income (loss), cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, net cash used in operating activities and our financial results presented in accordance with GAAP.
