JERICHO, NY / ACCESS Newswire / June 8, 2026 / Intelligent Protection Management Corp. (“IPM,” “we,” “us,” “our” or the “Company”) (NASDAQ:IPM), a managed technology solutions provider focused on enterprise cybersecurity and cloud infrastructure, announced today that Jason Katz, CEO, has been invited to present at the “Architecting Tomorrow: The AI Data Center Summit” presented by Maxim Group LLC, on Thursday, June 11th at 10:30 a.m. ET.

Event Overview

The explosive growth of generative AI is driving unprecedented demand for physical and digital infrastructure. In this virtual conference, Maxim Group Research Analysts sit down with A.I. company leaders at the forefront of delivering that capacity with AI data centers. Participants will discuss the evolving landscape of AI infrastructure, including the challenges of getting obtaining sufficient power at reasonable rates, obtaining GPUs, building for high cooling needs, construction sequencing, gaining quality tenants, securing financing, and the race to bring new capacity online to meet surging demand.

This conference will be hosted virtually on Maxim Digital platform. To attend, sign up to become a Maxim Digital member at: https://digital.maximgrp.com/events/architecting-tomorrow-the-ai-data-center-summit-06112026
