Management Commentary

"During the second quarter, we continued to successfully execute against our strategy to drive profitable revenue growth through enhanced recurring business solutions, resulting in 25% sequential revenue growth and a significant improvement in gross margin," commented Fei Chen, CEO of LiqTech. The commercial strategy we instituted when I took over as CEO focused on several initiatives: first, to increase recurring revenue; second, to create new partnership and distribution agreements to expand our commercial reach; and third, to improve operational efficiencies. These first three initiatives are all moving forward according to plan. Further, our fourth initiative is to deploy larger system sales. This initiative is advancing, with the successful commissioning during the second quarter of key swimming pool and oil and gas applications as well as the recent delivery of a phosphoric acid pilot unit, representing our first delivery of this application in Asia."

"Our strategic focus to enhance our recurring revenue opportunities-including installed base sales, diesel particulate filters, ceramic membranes, and plastics business-continues to deliver the intended results. Across all of these key areas, we have improved our pricing excellence to deliver increased gross profits. With an expectation for continued improvement in contribution margins and efficient management of operating expenses, we are closing the gap to achieve quarterly breakeven."

"From a system sales standpoint, swimming pool systems have been a leading driver for us during 2023 following the launch of our enhanced Aqua Solution® based on our proprietary silicon carbide (SiC) membrane technology. Year-to-date, we have received fifteen pool system orders from a wide variety of geographic locations. Additionally, oil and gas-related solutions continue to advance, particularly through our collaboration with NESR as we have built up an aligned pipeline with clear targets in the near term. We also completed the on-site commission of our first MEG unit, providing us confidence for additional opportunities within this market subsegment. Furthermore, we are making progress in phosphoric acid purification with the delivery of a pilot unit to Silicon Filter in China. With a strategic combination of direct sales and distribution partners, such as our recently signed agreement with Wondux and Silicon Filter, I believe we have the right combination going forward to make continued progress in our key target markets of swimming pools, oil and gas, acid purification, and broader water treatment markets."

"We believe the second half of the year will show continued growth and improved operating performance as we look to mark a major milestone in the near future of sustained profitability," Chen concluded.

Q2 2023 Financial Results

Revenue for quarter ended June 30, 2023, was $5.0 million, comparable to the $5.0 million reported in second quarter of 2022. While offset by lower system sales and DPFs, revenue stability was attributable to an increase in system aftermarket activities, ceramic membranes sales, and plastic products, reflecting a continued focus on strengthening the recurring business lines with a diversified and improved revenue mix that is better suited for the existing manufacturing setup. Furthermore, revenue in the current period benefitted from commissioning and contract work across key oil & gas projects and planned marine scrubber remediation work.

The positive development in the current quarter was partly offset by a year-on-year decrease in sales of liquid filtration systems and DPFs, as the quarter ended June 30, 2022, benefitted from the delivery of a sizable oil & gas project in the Middle East as well as the delivery of a legacy DPF order for a transportation client in Asia.

Gross profit for the quarter ended June 30, 2023 was $1.2 million, reflecting a gross profit margin of 23%, compared to $0.1 million, or a gross profit margin of 3%, in second quarter of 2022. Considering the comparable revenue levels, the increase was mainly driven by a reduction in cost of goods sold underpinned by improvements in both product and price mix, and operational efficiencies supported by the newly implemented ERP platform. Notably, the recurring business, including sales of ceramic products and pool systems, were the main drivers behind the improvement in gross profit, partly offset by costs related to ongoing remediation work and continued investments in manufacturing optimization initiatives as we seek to improve kiln utilization and general manufacturing throughput.

Total operating expenses for the quarter ended June 30, 2023 were $2.8 million compared to $4.7 million in the second quarter of 2022. The decrease was predominantly attributable to the restructuring costs of $1.8 million recorded in the second quarter of 2022. Adjusting for the reported restructuring costs, total operating expenses decreased $0.2 million, or 7%.

Other Income (Expense) for the quarter ended June 30, 2023 was $0.0 million compared to $(1.9) million in second quarter of 2022, with the change reflecting a gain on currency transactions and the early repayment of the Convertible Note in the second quarter of 2022.

Net Loss for the quarter ended June 30, 2023 was $(1.6) million compared to $(6.5) million in the second quarter of 2022, benefitting from the increased gross profit underpinned by both price and mix improvements, increased manufacturing throughput across our Danish manufacturing facilities, and reductions in operating expenses related to the restructuring and refinancing activities conducted during the second guarter of 2022.

Cash on hand (including restricted cash) on June 30, 2023 was $12.6 million compared to $16.6 million on December 31, 2022.

2023 Full-Year Outlook

The Company expects revenue growth of 20-30% for the full year of 2023 compared to 2022, with a gross margin range of 15-20%.
