Management Commentary

"Our enhanced commercial strategy continues to deliver positive results, driven primarily by our established businesses-including the provision of commercial pool systems, general aftermarket sales, and the sale of ceramic membranes and diesel particulate filters-resulting in a year-over-year revenue growth of 53%," commented Fei Chen, CEO of LiqTech. "We also continued to execute against our goals to improve our manufacturing and operational efficiencies, demonstrating an increase in gross profit margin from 3% in the prior-year period to 19% in the current period, coupled with a 4% sequential decline in our operating expenses. As revenue growth continues and we better absorb our fixed manufacturing overhead through increased throughput, we should see continued improvement in gross profit margins as evidenced during the third quarter. This strong trend provides us with a clear pathway to quarterly breakeven in line with previous guidance."

"Within the established segment of our business, we also saw the return of our first new marine scrubber system orders in more than 18 months as we deployed an upgraded, modular-designed system through our recently enhanced distribution relationship with Joyo in China. LiqTech has more than 160 installations in the marine scrubber market, which occurred primarily between 2018 and 2020. With a renewed focus on this market, coupled with capable distribution partners, I believe there is an opportunity to regain our position in this market in the future."

"As we look to the rest of the year and into 2024, we see a number of opportunities in our targeted business segment particularly within phosphoric acid, mono ethylene glycol (MEG), and produced water as a component of the oil and gas market, all of which we believe will be key contributors to future growth alongside our established business. Further, our new partnerships within the commercial swimming pool market are expected to accelerate our growth in this key market segment for us starting next year."

"I am pleased with the progress our new leadership team has made to transform LiqTech operationally and commercially to become a leading provider of advanced and sustainable filtration solutions, servicing our clients globally. Looking into the last quarter of 2023, we will carefully monitor the escalating conflict in the Middle East, more specifically Israel and Gaza, as we continue to have important O&G projects ongoing in the region that may be negatively impacted by the situation. Across the rest of our business, we will work diligently to close out 2023 on a strong note while positioning for growth and margin accretion in 2024," Chen concluded.

Q3 2023 Financial Results

Revenue for the quarter ended September 30, 2023, was $5.1 million, compared to the $3.3 million reported in the third quarter of 2022. The positive development in revenue reflects a continued strengthening of our established business lines with a significant increase in aftermarket sales, more specifically membrane housings and general spare part sales, but also increased deliveries for pool systems in Europe and Asia Pacific. Furthermore, the quarter benefitted from stable DPF activity, continued remediation work for marine systems, and progress on external R&D projects to further strengthen our technology base.

While delivering a strong quarter, we did see a decline in incoming orders for general component sales due to macro-economic uncertainty and the impact from the European holiday early in the summer.

Gross profit for the quarter ended September 30, 2023, was $0.9 million, reflecting a gross profit margin of 19%, compared to $0.1 million, or a gross profit margin of 3%, in the third quarter of 2022. The positive variance in gross profit is a result of increased volume, an improved revenue mix with elevated contribution of high-margin aftermarket activities, enhanced pricing discipline, and targeted cost reductions. During the quarter, we have onboarded new hires to ramp up our ceramics manufacturing throughput, improve kiln utilization, and compress delivery lead times. Profitability was also underpinned by new quality and production optimization efforts, seeking to standardize our system and service delivery platforms.

Total operating expenses for the quarter ended September 30, 2023 were $2.6 million, compared to $2.4 million in the third quarter of 2022, with the increase attributable to the onboarding of additional sales representatives, increased IT costs, and intensified marketing efforts partly offset by reduced general and administrative expenses following the CEO transition and key management changes recorded in the third quarter of 2022.

Other Income (Expense) for the quarter ended September 30, 2023 was $0.3 million compared to $0.5 million in the third quarter of 2022, with the change reflecting a reduced gain on currency transactions, partially offset by increased interest income due to a more favorable deposit interest rate Net Loss for the quarter ended September 30, 2023 was $(1.4) million compared to $(1.8) million in the third quarter of 2022. The change was attributable to the increase in revenue and gross profit margin, partially offset by an increase in operating expenses and reduction of other income.

Cash on hand (including restricted cash) on September 30, 2023 was $11.8 million compared to $12.6 million on June 30, 2023.

2023 Full-Year Outlook

The Company expects 2023 full year revenue between $19 million and $21 million with a reported full year gross margin range of 15-20%.
