SenesTech Expands E-Commerce Reach Through Walmart Fulfillment Services

Enhanced convenience and nationwide fulfillment support SenesTech’s growing ecommerce business

SURPRISE, Ariz., Nov. 03, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) — SenesTech, Inc. (NASDAQ: SNES), an innovator in rodent birth control, today announced that its Evolve® products are now available through Walmart Fulfillment Services (WFS), expanding the Company’s fulfillment capabilities on Walmart.com and supporting the continued growth of its ecommerce business.

SenesTech has sold its products through Walmart Marketplace since December 2024, with orders previously shipped directly by the Company. Through WFS, customers now benefit from faster delivery, around-the-clock order processing and shipping seven days a week, making it easier and more convenient to purchase Evolve.

Walmart.com’s extensive reach and nationwide fulfillment network provide SenesTech with an opportunity to increase product visibility and reach more consumers. WFS also reduces the Company’s direct fulfillment responsibilities and lowers fulfillment costs as sales grow.

The transition is already contributing to increased sales on Walmart.com, building on the continued growth of SenesTech’s ecommerce business.

“Reducing friction for online consumers and getting products to their doors faster are key to growing our ecommerce business,” said Michael Edell, President and Chief Executive Officer of SenesTech. “Walmart Fulfillment Services helps us do both while lowering our fulfillment costs and supporting continued growth.”

“Ecommerce has grown significantly over the past several quarters and remains a key part of our growth strategy,” Edell continued. “Expanding our capabilities on Walmart.com gives us another way to reach new customers, encourage repeat purchases and make sustainable rodent control more accessible.”

Evolve products provide an innovative approach to rodent population management by targeting reproduction rather than relying on conventional lethal rodenticides. Formulated with ingredients designated by the EPA as minimum risk, Evolve products offer consumers and professionals a sustainable tool for managing rodent populations.

About SenesTech
