About SenesTech

As the pioneers of fertility control for rodents, SenesTech's solutions are designed to integrate into any IPM program, delivering a powerful, sustainable alternative to traditional methods. We developed ContraPest®, the first and only U.S. EPA-registered contraceptive for male and female rats, and Evolve Rat and Evolve Mouse Birth Control, FIFRA 25(b) minimum-risk solutions for effective, long-term, and humane rodent population control.

Our mission is bold: healthier cities, safer environments, and smarter pest management-without compromise. We believe the future of pest control is reproductive control-and we're leading the way.
